As Though You Didn't Know...

By Clinton Caldwell

He was coming out of the Oakland ball park the other evening with the usual crowd of homeward bound fans when out in the street, jammed with automobiles, one Ford containing two young fellows who were eager to get past the cars ahead, used their spotlight the way a cop does—that is, wags the beam of light up and down through the rear window of your car.

And so the motorists ahead, thinking it was a cop, obligingly pulled over and let the "wise guys" pass.

But as soon as the drivers of the cars that had been "aced" saw that it wasn't a cop—well, they had their own thoughts concerning the matter.

At the corner, when the light turned red and the wise guys had to stop for it, this one slightly perturbed gent pulled up behind the Ford, got out of his car carrying what looked like a tire iron, walked over and with one neat clip knocked the lens, globe, etc., out of the offending spotlight, then turned and got back into his car again.

Our friend says that due to the fact that the gent with the tire iron wasn't a fraction under six feet two, the wise guys decided to let the matter rest right there.

"State Department officials are trying to interest U. S. newspapers in sponsoring a plan to bring from 50 to 200 foreign newspapermen to this country for short tours of duty."

That's what we read in the current issue of Newsweek.

Fine. But how about the State Department, or anybody else for that matter, finding a place for one teensy-weensy newspaperman to rest his weary head right here in Niles?

NEW SCOUT TROOP HAS CELEBRATION AT ELDERBERRY

Niles Scout Troop No. 1, which has been in operation now for over a month, held its first big outing last Saturday night at Elderberry Park in Niles Canyon.

The troop, with Ray Andrade as Scoutmaster and Bob Lopez as assistant, is comprised entirely of boys of Mexican descent. The 17 boys are eager and enthusiastic over their new roles as Boy Scouts, and promise some stiff competition to Niles Troop No. 2, in the matter of sports and games.

The Saturday night affair, in the nature of a celebration because all the boys had successfully passed their application, featured swimming, games, and a weiner roast.

NEW FIRE TRUCK RECEIVED BY WARM SPRINGS

A brand new shiny red fire truck with a 300-gallon capacity has this week been received by the Warm Springs fire department as the first tangible step toward putting that part of the township in a position to handle any fire emergency that may come up.

Obtained through the efforts of Supervisor Stanley, the new piece of fire fighting apparatus was delivered Monday afternoon by James McGlinckey.

Temporarily the truck, made by Chevrolet, is being stored at the John Souza ranch, but on Tuesday evening Fire Chief Souza, with the help of Assistant Chief John Feliciano, demonstrated to the local volunteer fire fighters some of the truck's finer points.

REV. JOHN LEAL FLIES TO AZORES

By LOIS JUSTUS

After many years of waiting, first because of ill health, then because of the war, Reverend John Leal, pastor of St. Joseph's Church here in the Mission for 33 years, has at last realized his dreams of a trip, and by Atlantic Clipper too, to his native land of the Azores.

At least his parents were native born but your correspondent has been informed that Father Leal was born in San Jose. Anyway, he was educated in Lisbon and studied many years in Europe and has made several trips back and forth.

He left Sunday by plane for New York to spend several days, then to Amsterdam, Holland, thence to Lisbon and on to the Azores, where he owns a villa. Father expects to be gone three months and will visit and hopes to bring back with him Joseph Marshall, his former gardener of many years, who returned to the Azores several years ago to be with his aged mother who recently passed away.

On his return to the United States, Father Leal expects to visit several friends in the east at Cape Cod and in Massachusetts. During his absence Rev. Renault of San Francisco will conduct masses and perform his duties.

PLEASANTON MEET FOR FIREMEN

As a member of the committee of the Alameda County Firemen's Association, Chief Clarence Crane of Niles this Wednesday attended a meeting at Oakland wherein it was decided that the one-day convention of county firemen, the first of its kind, will be held in Pleasanton on August 25.

Purpose of the meeting which, through courtesy of the Alameda Board of Supervisors, is to be held on the Pleasanton Fair Grounds, will be to show the different new types of fire-fighting equipment and their uses, afford a chance for firemen to compete amongst themselves in the various techniques of laying hose, making hook-ups, etc., as well as for an all-around discussion.

Following the business meeting, there will be a barbecue at McKinley Park.

Other members of the committee which is headed by Chief Tom Lane of Alameda, include Chief Olivera of Ashland and Chief Amaral of Pleasanton.

AMBULANCE TRIPS FOR THREE PERSONS

The Dallas Paul ambulance of Centerville made at least three emergency calls this week in the region of the township.

On the morning of July 27, Eddie Overton, whose home was given as Stockton, suffered the loss of his hand under a train when he went to sleep alongside the tracks near the Niles siding. The accident had occurred sometime during the night but the victim was not found until morning. He was taken to the Fairmont hospital.

On July 28, Mrs. Elizairey of 409 Fourth street, Decoto, was taken to the Highland hospital following a heart attack.

Also on July 28, the ambulance was rushed to the underpass on highway 21 just outside of Pleasanton to pick up R. J. Kirkpatrick of 425 Holmes street, Livermore. His automobile had been struck by a truck. He was taken to St. Paul hospital in Livermore.

MEMORIAL SUNDAY TO BE HELD FOR REV. GRABILL

Memorial service for the late Rev. D. Q. Grabill will be held at the Niles Congregational Church on Sunday, August 25, at two o'clock, it was announced this week by trustees of the church.

The name of the pastor who will conduct the service has not been made public, although it is known that it will be someone who knew Mr. Grabill.

Homer Pugh of San Jose, who has appeared at the Congregational Church during Mr. Grabill's four years as pastor there, will furnish special music for the occasion. He is a cousin of the Grabills.

The first regular church service will be held Sunday, September 1, at 11 o'clock a.m., with Sunday School at 9:45. A supply pastor will conduct the service at that time.

ROTARY CLUB HAS 3 NEW MEMBERS

Three new Rotarians were accepted into membership by the Niles Rotary Club at its weekly luncheon meeting at the International Kitchen yesterday. They are: Clarence Lesser of the Morton Salt Co., Dr. L. N. Hazel of the Kimber Poultry Breeding Farms, and Kenneth Henry of the Niles Machine and Tool Works

Program for the day was a talk by Dr. Hazel on "Research in Animal Breeding." John Berchem was program chairman.

President E. Dixon Bristow announced that District Governor Willie Osburn will visit the local club at its meeting August 15. At a meeting of committee chairmen following the luncheon, Bristow went over plans for the meeting with the district governor.

NEWARK MODEL CLUB IS FORMED

Under the directorship of Wes Sears, the Newark Model Airplane Club was last Friday night officially organized.

Meeting in Newark to elect officers and make plans for a membership roster, the club got off to a good start. According to Sears, interest in the club is at a high level.

A motion was passed to join the National Academy of Model Aeronautics. This means that any records set by individual members of the club can be held as official. What with the number of new racing models being readied by various members, there is a good chance that some sort of a record may be set.

All club members will be tendered licenses and rated according to their ability.

Besides the election of Wes Sears as director and councellor for the club, the following officers were elected: Leroy Andrade, president; Al Teixeira, vice-president; and Bill Mette, secretary-treasurer.

CHURCH CLUB IS WELL RECEIVED

With a program to be given at 8 o'clock Friday evening, the vacation club school of the Irvington Presbyterian Church this week comes to a successful conclusion.

Sponsored by Dr. Durham and directed by Rev. Roe Lewis of the church, the classes which were held five days a week in the class rooms of the church, had an enrollment of 28 pupils.

Classes included singing, games both indoors and out, Bible lessons and craftwork.

Besides Rev. Lewis, teachers who gave of their time and effort toward making the club a success were: William Mesa, Sunday school teacher of Decoto, Miss Mary Burnsed and Miss Caroline Keep.

MIDSHIPMAN ROLAND BENDEL ON CRUISE IN ATLANTIC

Midshipman Ronald M. Bendel of Niles is aboard the USS North Carolina, a battleship, for the first summer peacetime cruise since the end of the war.

This cruise is outstanding in that it is the first time in peacetime history that the midshipmen from Annapolis and the cadets from West Point will work on combined operations.

The ports at which the Carolina will call are: Newport, R. I.; Guantanamo Bay, Cuba; Norfolk, Va.; New York, N. Y.. The cruise will end August 15.

IRVINGTON MAN IS ASST. PROFESSOR AT U. OF CAL.

The University of California is announcing this week the appointment of a former Irvington boy, Philip F. Griffin, as assistant professor of journalism.

Griffin, the brother of Randy Griffin of Irvington, spent his early boyhood in Irvington and, after the death of his parents, lived with his aunt, Mrs. Mylah Norris in Centerville.

He attended Washington Union High School and was one of the founders of the school paper, "The Hatchet."

Always interested in newspaper work, he was a reporter on the San Francisco Chronicle for several years, and has been a journalism instructor at Cal. for over five years.

$3,000 'TAKE' FROM FESTIVAL IN IRVINGTON

It was announced this week by the Irvington Promenaders, sponsors of the recent Apricot Festival, that receipts for the show totaled $3,000.

This makes the three-day celebration one of the most successful ever to have been staged in the township.

In fact, the Promenaders were so well pleased with the entire results, and pleased, too, with the response given it by the public, that it has already decided that another festival patterned along the very same lines is to be held in 1947.

"If any improvements can be made to better the 1947 festival, we certainly intend to make them; but if it turns out that the 1947 show is equally as good as the one held this year, we shall be more than satisfied," said a spokesman for the Promenaders.

Of the 20,000 or more persons attending the festival, none could deny but what they were in complete agreement with the opinion of the Promenaders.

PROMENADERS BUY SCHOOL EQUIPMENT

Of the $3,000 which constituted the gate receipts for the recently held Apricot Festival in Irvington, the Promenaders have decided to turn over $1,800 for the purchase of visual and auditorial equipment to be used in the Irvington Grammar school.

Equipment will consist of a sound motion picture projection machine and an amplifier.

CALL TO MEET ISSUED BY V.F.W.

All veterans of foreign wars living in and about Niles are urged to attend a meeting to be held at 8 o'clock Tuesday, August 6, at the Veterans' Memorial Building in Niles.

Purpose of the meeting, according to George Bolis, is to get the mens' opinions on the organizing of a local post.

GASSERS BEAT DECOTO REDCAPS

Behind the pitching of Johnny Ledesma, the Mobilgas nine of Alvarado turned back the crack Decoto Redcaps, 5 to 3, on Sunday afternoon.

The Decoto nine is a grade one outfit and a defeat at the hands of the Alvaradans is a highly considered feat.

GETTING THE TWO TOGETHER

Tony Lucas of Niles has the property site for his new garage, and he even has the building. Now if he could only get the two together, he would be very happy indeed.

This week Tony bought the McElvain building on Main St., across from Solon's. His lot is on the highway. The problem then is to get the building over to the lot, a feat which takes considerable maneuvering.

For professional building movers, it is not a tricky problem however. The problem is this: WHEN can they do it? It seems, like automobile buying, you have to put in your name and wait your turn.

So Tony is waiting. The sooner he gets his building over there, the better it will be, not only for Tony, but for McElvain, who is planning to build another building on the Main St. site.

THEATER NINE WALLOPS NAVY

Because the El Cerrito Merchants couldn't fill their engagement at a swat-the-horsehide picnic in Alvarado last Sunday, the Theater nine took on the Naval Supply Depot from Oakland and depth-bombed them to the tune of 9 to 5.

Harold Alameda, another new slinger from Alvarado, held up well and Jess Jacinto poled two doubles, two singles and therewith drove in five runs. Dutra also bludgeoned out 3 for 5.

NAME OMITTED

The Irvington Promenaders, sponsors of the Washington Township Apricot Festival, wishes to state that due to oversight the Bear Cat Club of Centerville was omitted in their recent advertisement listing supporters of the festival.

THREE TEAMS OUT FOR FIRST PLACE

Wth three teams battling it out for first place in the Washington Township Softball League, the Kleine's team, with wins over Frick's by a score of 2 to 1 and over Westvaco by 8 to 2, is providing the classy Mission Firemen with all the competition they can use.

The Sons beat Mission 5 to 2 and then just to prove they meant business, beat Frick's 14 to 8.

In other games Wedgewood blanked Central Chevvy 2 to 0 and the Woodmen forfeited to Kraftile 9 to 0.

LOCAL WOMAN RECEIVES THANKS FROM HOSPITAL

It was a long, hard grind for Mrs. Frank Fields of Niles. We're talking about the three and a half years she served, during the war, and immediately thereafter, as a nurse's aid.

There were many times when this pleasant-faced, kindly woman would rather have stayed at home, as her own health, during that time, was none too good. But the thought of service for others, less fortunate than herself, was always uppermost in her mind, so she went on—and cheerfully—because she knew she was needed.

It was therefore, with extreme pleasure, that she received the following letter from the commanding officer of the Oakland ASF Regional Hospital, which was recently closed, and which terminated Mrs. Field's nurse's aid career.

Oakland ASF Regional Station

Dear Mrs. Fields:

In behalf of the medical officers and patients of the Oakland Area Regional Hospital, I desire to express to you appreciation for the splendid service which you have given to the patients of this hospital for the past three years. Your work in the hospital has been an inspiration to the patients and to the other personnel, and you have been instrumental, in a large way, in helping the patients recover and also to improve their morale while they have been here.

COMMUNITY CHEST FOR TOWNSHIP

The formation of a Community Chest, similar to those founded in neighboring cities and townships, may not be far off for Washington Township, according to an announcement made this week by proponents of the plan.

Judge Allen G. Norris and Edward Enos have called a meeting of leaders in the community to discuss the possibility of establishing a local chest, the meeting to be held in the justice court in Centerville on Thursday evening, August 8, at 8 o'clock.

It is deemed advisable to form some such body in view of the fact that the War Chest is no longer in existence.

PARK HAS NEW WATER CONTROL SYSTEM IN USE

Going to great lengths to see that the township folk can do their swimming in comfort, Silva Brothers of Niles, operators of Elderberry Park in Niles Canyon, this week completed installation of their new water temperature control system.

In case you may be under the impression that the huge new boiler system is intended to raise and lower the temperature of the water, it should be pointed out that such is not the case. On the contrary, the system is intended to keep the water at an even temperature, thus insuring comfort to swimmers at any time of the day and regardless of climatical conditions.

Of course, there are other factors which make Elderberry Park a good close-to-home vacation spot, the Silva Brothers point out, such as the use of pure Hetch-Hetchy water to swim in instead of creek water, the services of a lifeguard and the elaborate precautions taken to see that the water is tested for purity as often as is necessary.

The park is now open from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. every day except Monday and on Sunday afternoon the dance hall is open to the public with an orchestra on hand

AT LONG LAST: SAFETY SIGNAL AT W. P. CROSSING

Safety crossing signals — at long last—will be installed at the Western Pacific crossing on Nursery Road, according to announcement received this week from the county Board of Supervisors. Also to be installed will be signals at the H Street crossing in Decoto.

The installations will be made by the railroad company, stated Chief Engineer T. L. Phillips of the company. The signals on Nursery Road will be of the flashing-light type, while those in Decoto will be wig-wag.

It is probable that the Decoto installation will be made first because that type of signal is more easily available than light signals.

Effort to secure a safety signal at the Nursery Road crossing has been made by a number of organizations and individuals for several years. Most recent fatal accident at the crossing was two years ago. While the railroad company then expressed its intention of installing signals eventually, delay was said to be unavoidable due to war-time scarcities.

Energetic work was done by the Niles Chamber of Commerce and the Southern Alameda County Progressive Club, supported in their efforts by Supervisor Chester E. Stanley, County Surveyor Wallace Boggs, Marion Newman of the Pacific States Steel Corp., and The Township Register.

The Decoto crossing signal comes as a result of efforts by the Decoto Chamber of Commerce, aided by Stanley and Boggs.

FOUR LOCAL MEN OUT OF SERVICE

Members of the service who were given their discharges this past week include: Alfonso C. Rodrigues of Decoto, Donald Bragg of Niles, LaVerne DeVincenzi of Alvarado, and David Graber of Niles.

MR. SOULTS TAKES OVER PASTORATE AT NEWARK

Mr. Carl Soults, his wife, and their two daughters are now residing in Newark where Mr. Soults has taken over the pastorate of the Newark Presbyterian Church.

Formerly of El Monte, Calif., the Soults' entry into the community life of Newark is somewhat clouded by the fact that their children have been undergoing a siege of whooping cough.

The Soults replaced Rev. and Mrs. James Brown who moved to Oregon.

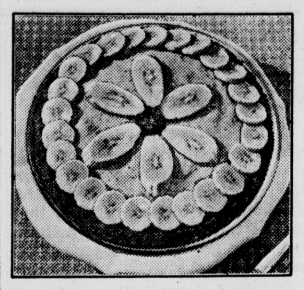
Nancy Holmes SUGGESTS



HOT weather! Cold weather! No matter what the temperature, dinner minus dessert is never complete. But when the mercury rises, the demand is for something light and cool—not only to eat but to prepare, too.

For such days Nancy Holmes of the Best Foods kitchens suggests this special banana pie which never sees the inside of an oven. And believe it or not you won't even scoop into the flour bin to make the crust.

Chiquita Pie

Crust
2 cups crushed gingersnaps
⅔ cup melted vitaminized margarine

Filling
2 tablespoons plain, unflavored gelatine
½ cup cold water
3 eggs, separated
¼ teaspoon salt
1½ cups mashed ripe banana
⅓ cup sugar
3 tablespoons lemon juice
½ cup orange juice
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
1 teaspoon grated orange rind
Sliced bananas

Crush enough gingersnaps to make 2 cups (about 25), blend with the melted vitaminized margarine and press firmly into 9-inch pie plate. Chill until firm. Soak gelatine in cold water and dissolve over hot water. Add slowly to egg yolks beaten light with the banana, half the sugar and 2 tablespoons of lemon juice. Add orange juice, orange and lemon rind. Cool until syrupy. Beat egg whites light with salt. When stiff, add rest of sugar and beat until points are formed. Fold into thickened egg yolk mixture and heap into crust. Chill until firm. Dip sliced bananas in rest of lemon juice and arrange on top of pie. Yield: 6 servings.

SAFEWAY'S fruits and vegetables make grand salads! (we guarantee this)

It takes top quality fresh fruits and vegetables to make perfect salads. The lettuce must be crisp and tender; tomatoes must be ripe, yet firm and full flavored; every ingredient must be at its peak of goodness if the salad is to be exactly right. Yes, salad making is just about the most severe test you can make of fresh produce. That's why we invite you to try Safeway fruits and vegetables in salads. We're so certain you'll find them grand, we promise your money back if they ever fail to please you!

Carol Drake describes complete-meal salads

Make summertime salad-time by including whole meal salads on your menu frequently during the week. If you make the salads substantial enough by adding hard cooked egg, seafood, cold chicken or meat or cheese, as well as garden fresh vegetables, then all you'll need to complete the menu is a dessert.

SUPER SUPPER SALAD—Combine 1 cup flaked seafood, chopped leftover chicken or meat with 1 cup cooked peas, 1 cup sliced, cooked carrots, 1 large sliced cucumber, sliced radishes and green onion (tops and all) to taste, and 2 or 3 sliced, hard-cooked eggs. Season with ½ tsp. salt and ½ tsp. sugar. Toss in salad dressing seasoned with a bit of mustard. Serve on lettuce or cabbage leaves. Garnish with tomato wedges. Serves 6 plentifully.

KIDNEY BEAN AND VEGETABLE SALAD—Drain and chill 1 medium-size can of kidney or baked beans. Combine 1 cup shredded cabbage, 2 or 3 tomatoes cut in wedges, 2 or 3 chopped green onions, tops and all, 1 cucumber finely diced. Season with salt and pepper. Add beans and toss in a tart dressing. Serve in lettuce cups or on shredded mixed greens. Serves 6.

YOUR FAVORITE VEGETABLE SALADS can become whole meal salads by making them in generous amounts and adding cold, chopped meats, canned seafood, and the like. Or you can make them tasty and robust by adding strips of luncheon meats or pre-cooked chopped frankfurters. Add a bit of left over rice or cooked macaroni or chop a boiled potato into a mixed vegetable salad.

HAVE YOU EVER TRIED shredding raw new turnips or beets in a salad? Raw cauliflower is delectable too, sliced paper-thin or shredded.

MEAT—POULTRY BUTTER and EGGS

Meat, poultry, butter, eggs, and other dairy products are the principal items in our stores which continue without price control but subject to possible recontrol after August 21st. We believe Congress made a wise decision in providing for a continued free market for these commodities. From our knowledge and experience with meat and dairy products, we believe that consumers and producers alike will be benefited in the long run if meat and dairy products are not recontrolled. A free market is the only way to assure a continuation of adequate non-black market supplies at non-black market prices.

Critical Bottleneck

The prophets of pessimism who predicted huge unemployment within a few months after V-J Day have been disappointed. Unemployment totals have not even begun to approach the figures they forecast, and what joblessness there is can hardly be classed as genuine.

As a matter of fact, the lack of workers is becoming a critical bottleneck retarding production. In Detroit, fo rexample, automobile manufacturers, though still worried about material shortages, are reported even more concerned about the dearth of manpower.

Here in California the situation is not much different. Although unemployment roles are high, thousands of jobs are going begging. In these days, young people coming out of high school or college are not confronted with a discouraging labor market such as existed a few years ago.

The great diversity of business in our state, as well as the constantly increasing volume of production, trade and commerce, afford wide opportunities for careers in the business world. And these opportunities are not confined to any one locality or to metropolitan centers.

The man or woman who really wants to work can find it without much trouble. Of course, a person can be so "choosy" as to make almost any job—no matter how good—undesirable in his eyes. But the fact remains that this is an era of great job opportunity, and it behooves the unemployed to make the most of it.

A Decade of Franco

It seems hard to realize that ten years have passed already since Francisco Franco came to power in Spain through a treacherous revolution that was backed with arms and men by Hitler and Mussolini.

It seems harder still to realize that this man who has been called the "Spanish butcher," because of the human slaughter that attended his triumph, is still in control.

A decade ago the civil war in Spain served as a dress rehearsal for the great conflict that burst into being just two or three years later. At that time Franco rode to power on the rising tide of fascist militarism. In the years immediately following 1936 that tide threatened to sweep over all of Europe. For a time it did actually engulf almost the whole of the continent. But now it has receded. Both his pals, Mussolini and Hitler, came to a violent end. Their empires have crumbled.

Today Francisco Franco is a lonely man. He is detested by the world and by most of his own people. He has survived thus far only through the most oppressive and vicious measures against all who oppose him.

Right now he is living on borrowed time—and time is running out. Some day the past will catch up with him.

SCOUT EXECUTIVE TO WED ON AUGUST 16

Of special interest to Scouters in this community will be the coming marriage of Southern Alameda County District Scout Executive Don MacDougal, to Miss Bernice Hippler of Willoughby, Ohio.

The wedding will take place at the Wee Kirk o' the Heather Church in Glendale, the home of the bridegroom's parents, on August 16, after which the newlyweds will leave on a honeymoon at Sequoia National Park. They will make their home at 21504 East 14th street, Hayward.

MacDougal, who served as a lieutenant in the Navy during the war, is a graduate of the University of Southern California. The bride-to-be is a graduate of Ohio State University, and recently flew from Honolulu where she has been employed by the government. Since her arrival in the States, she has been employed at the San Francisco Chronicle in the classified ad department.

OUR READERS WRITE . . .

An interesting letter arrives from our friend, Nell Farrington Myers, who, with her husband, is now in Tahoe, after having spent over three months in the desert at Pearblossom:

At Eldorado National Forest Camp, Al Tahoe, California, Sunday, July 28, 1945.

My Dear Mrs. Batman:

I am seated at a long table in our fine comfortable camping place on the very shore of the "Lake of the Sky" as they call it here. I can look thru the trees, or between them, and see the three distinct shades of blue, the first—nearest the shore—is a green-blue; the next "section" is a sort of sky blue; then the rest is Navy—deep blue. There is still snow on the surrounding peaks—patches in the shadowy hollows! The sky is such a clear deep blue it seems to merge with the water!

Yes, we looked forward to coming back to our old camp of a year ago, where we arrived just as the siren at the Ranger Station here blew for Peace! (V-J Day. As we stopped this time to register, the smiling young ranger advanced to shake hands with us. Of course we did not expect him to remember us, but he did. "Well, well, you are the people who were here to help us celebrate that great day," he said. So it was a friendly hand and greeting we received upon returning "north" from our journey of almost four months, meandering thru desert country.

By the time you receive this it will have been four months since we drove away from our "Old Home" in Niles Canyon—on a cold morning, April 3, leaving things in the capable hands of our girl, June, Mrs. Alex de Knoop, and happily our "children" were reunited, for just four days after we left, "our boy Alex" was "out" of the Navy!

We had a grand trip up here from the desert country. We have seen many places and faces. We left little Pearblossom on the Mojave Desert, where we had returned and spent 15 days with our good friends there who sent us away with prayers and their good wishes for our return some day. We left there on a hot afternoon at 5 o'clock and saw in passing along, the ripening pears and other fruit hanging in great clusters where three months before we had seen the white blossoms against the sun-capped peaks of the San Gabriel Range! The irrigated orchards amid the sand and sage is one of the surprises of that desert area! In April we spent such delightful hours exploring the trails and unusual sights of the Mojave with our good friends.

There . . . were carpets of orange poppies,
Regal shades of purple and gold;
I shall see those colors forever—
Tho I be sightless and old.

We saw the unique and majestic,
From a tiny desert bloom—
To the calico hills, like a bed quilt,
Spread a patch-work on the loom.

Joshua trees in the sage brush,
Snow water riding a flume;
Pear blossoms 'neath the white mountains,
And the sage with its silvery plume!

Scenes of wild flowers and beauty,
As flame over the distant hills,
Where the rainbows scattered spectrum
Fanned by winds in graceful rills!

This camp in Tahoe is a large, level place, among beautiful pines, and in passing I thing it interesting to relate how this came to be a camping place for the pleasure of the general public, at no cost for rental! The ranger told a group of us last summer at the "bowl" that a very wealthy man bequeathed, in his will, this 35 acres of choice, lake front property for "recreational purposes only" and for the people of America to enjoy as a government free camping place! And thus, it is kept up beautifully by the young ranger and his staff stationed here!

Most sincerely yours,
Nell Farrington Myers.

GENERAL EISENHOWER'S REPORT
IV

The third decisive phase in the campaign consisted of the battles west of the Rhine during February and March. Once again the enemy played into our hands by his insistence upon fighting the battle where he stood. In the lowland country between the Rhine and the Meuse, in the Eifel, and in the Saar, the armies which had been intended to defend Germany were shattered beyond recovery. The potential barrier of the Rhine lay practically undefended before us and from that time onward there was no German force in existence capable of halting our forward march. The war was won before the Rhine was crossed.

* * * * *

Throughout the struggle, it was in his logistical inability to maintain his armies in the field that the enemy's fatal weakness lay. Courage his forces had in full measure, but courage was not enough. Reinforcements failed to arrive, weapons, ammunition, and food alike ran short, and the dearth of fuel caused their powers of tactical mobility to dwindle to the vanishing point. In the last stages of the campaign they could do little more than wait for the Allied avalanche to sweep over them.

For this state of affairs we had, above all, to be grateful to the work of the Allied air forces. Long before we landed in France, the heavy bombers had begun their task of destroying the centers of production upon which the enemy relied, and the fruits of this effort were evident immediately the land campaign began. Following the invasion, these strategic blows at the heart of German industry were continued, and the task was also undertaken of cutting the supply lines which linked the factories to the fronts. Meanwhile the tactical aircraft, by their incessant bombing and strafing of the enemy before us in the field, broke his powers of resistance and prepared the way for the ground advances which struck toward the center of Germany. Those thrusts, moreover, were made with a rapidity which only the expedient of airborne supply could support. The overwhelming Allied superiority in the air was indeed essential to our victory. It at once undermined the basis of the enemy's strength and enabled us to prepare and execute our own ground operations in complete security.

It is difficult even for a professional soldier to appreciate the tremendous power which was achieved on the battlefields and in the skies of western Europe by the concerted efforts of the Allied nations. As stated earlier in this report, most of the 90 divisions which fought in the later phases of our operations were habitually reinforced to a strength of 17,000 men by tank, tank destroyer, and antiaircraft attachments. An idea of their shattering impact upon the Nazi war machine comes from consideration of the terrific firepower which they represent, of the mass of heavier Corps and Army artillery which supported them, of the inexhaustible supply system that sustained them, and of the flexibility with which their efforts could be applied by means of the efficient communications system. For behind the combat units the efforts of 3 millions of other men and women in uniform were devoted to maintaining them in action. We could, in effect, apply against the enemy on the Continent a force 30 times as large as the Allied armies which defeated Napoleon on the battlefield at Waterloo. In addition, we had available nearly 11,000 fighter and bomber airplanes whose mobile firepower could be applied at virtually any point we desired, as I have just described, and whose annihilating effects are evidenced by the wreckage of a powerful nation's cities, industries, and communications, and by the destruction of the air forces which defended them. To this power was added the striking and strangling force of two formidable naval fleets working as one.

says ERNEST KEECHLER
Ontario, California.

"In the care and maintenance of my 500 acre farm and 3800 acres customwork, I have owned and operated 12 'Caterpillar' track-type Tractors ranging from 10's to D2's in the past fifteen years. So far my 'Caterpillar' Dealer has never let me down on parts and service.

I now have four D2's, one with 12,000 hours and two with well over 10,000, and I am badly in need of a fifth which has been on order for several months. I don't want anything but 'Caterpillar' as I know it will give thousands of hours of satisfactory performance.

A GLASS ENGINE, designed and built by Shell scientists, lets them actually see how oil stands up under today's new stresses

Today's more powerful gasolines call for this more "powerful" motor oil

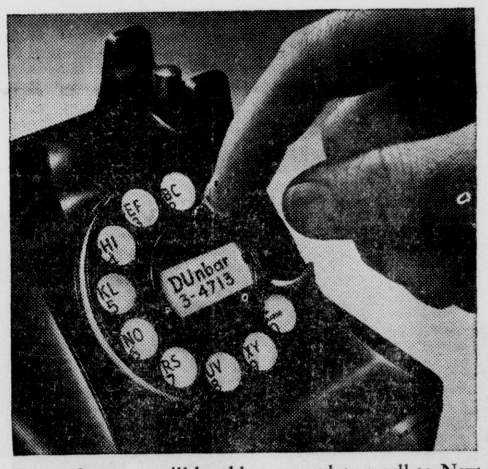
New GOLDEN SHELL

REMEMBER your first tankful of good, postwar gasoline? What an improvement it was! But that added power put new strains on your engine — gave your motor oil a tougher job.

To handle this extra lubrication load, new Golden Shell Motor Oil is fortified . . . made more "powerful." It has an oxidation inhibitor that fights gums, lacquers and sludge. And without these to clog oil lines and screens, your engine gets better lubrication.

We believe the added protection New Golden Shell gives your engine, new or old, is worth while. If you think so, too, ask the man at the Shell pump for New Golden Shell, the largest selling 25¢ oil in the West.

You'll dial calls all the way across the country



Some day, you will be able to complete a call to New York—or anywhere else in the country—almost as swiftly as a local call. For you will dial the number you want, and your call will be automatically routed across the country. Preliminary work on a nation-wide dialing system is already under way.

Uncannily accurate, switching equipment like this will do the job. Each section of the country will have a special three-digit code which you will simply dial before you dial the number you want. Between some neighboring cities here on the Coast long distance dialing will be a fact within the next few years.

This is only one of many long distance and local telephone projects included in our five-year four hundred million dollar expansion program. For it is our purpose to expand and improve service in every way we can . . . to make the telephone more useful and valuable to everyone.

An ever-improving telephone service at the least cost consistent with good wages and working conditions for our employees and a reasonable return to the thousands of people who have invested in the business.

Sportsmen's News

DEER SEASON WILL OPEN AUGUST 7

Deer season will open on August 7 throughout the Costal Range districts and prospects are good for hunting, the Associated Sportsmen of California said. Bucks with two points or more are the only legal deer, newcomers to California were informed.

The districts opening are as follows: 2, 2¼, 2½, 2¾, 3, 3½, 4⅛, and 101. Bar limits are two buck per season but if hunters wish to take a mule deer in the later Sierra season, they should use only the A tag of the two deer tags that must be purchased. Most sporting goods stores sell the tags and licenses. The mule and black-tail season in the remaining districts open September 23.

The Associated Sportsmen also warned hunters they may no longer use .22 caliber rim-fire rifles and the use of spitzer type bullets is also barred for large game hunting.

WILDLIFE CONFERENCE ADOPTS RESOLUTIONS

Fifteen resolutions were adopted at the 26th annual meeting of the Western Association of Game and Fish Commissioners at the Twin Falls, Idaho, conference last month.

Eleven of the resolutions were concurred in by the Western States Federated Sportsmen which met simultaneously with fish and game commissioners.

One of the most important resolutions adopted was that the Migratory Bird Hunting Stamp Act be amended to provide that lands purchased under its terms can be opened to hunting and to give administration of such lands, opened to hunting, over to the various states.

This would make it possible to hunt upland game as well as ducks or geese on what are now inviolate refuges, long a source of discontent of California sportsmen.

Other resolutions included: protection of States' Rights in administration of wildlife resources, both in specific areas and generally; requesting increase of appropriations granted the states under the Pittman-Robertson Act, funds of which come from sale of arms and posed the amending of the Federal ammunition to sportsmen; pro-Black Bass Act, which prohibits the commercialization of that fish, to include all game fish—with particular preference to steelhead trout; requesting Congress to provide adequate wildlife safeguards for existing public domains whenever and wherever they are transferred back to the states; request the federal and states' governments to enact adequate laws for the protection of inland and coastal waters from pollution.

Full particulars of the resolutions may be had by contacting the Associated Sportsmen of California at 835 Pacific building, San Francisco.

FISH AND STREAM ACTION TAKEN

A pamphlet dealing with recommendations and questions on fishing and stream conditions has been issued by the Coastal Streams Improvement Committee of the Associated Sportsmen of California. The replies to the questionaire and the support or opposition to the tentative recommendations set forth will have a great deal to do with the drafting of a program to be presented to the State Fish and Game Commission. Part of the program will consist of permanent development policies while another part will be in recommending changes in seasons and bag limits to the commission for action under its Regulatory Powers law.

DUCK SEASON TO BE SHORTENED

Information continues to come in to the effect that the migratory bird hunting regulations have been set and the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service is awaiting culmination of its program designed to accustom sportsmen to the idea of a shortened season before releasing the new regulations.

The general theory now is that a 45-day season may be expected with a 10-duck bag limit. Opening day is expected to be around the first of November in the intermediate zone.

The town of Lakeport, Lake county seat, was incorporated on May 7, 1888.

Lillian Jorgensen Becomes Bride of William I. Short at Sunday Ceremony

At a four o'clock ceremony on Sunday in the garden of her Irvington home, Miss Lillian Jorgensen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John P. Jorgensen, became the bride of Mr. William I. Short, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Short of Alameda. The Reverend H A. Schwarz, minister of the San Lorenzo Community Church, read the sacred rites in the presence of relatives and immediate friends.

Preceding the ceremony, Miss Cecile Short, sister of the groom and childhood friend of the bride, sang "I Love You Truly" and "Because," accompanied by Mrs. Dwight Thornburg. Miss Short also was the bride's only attendant. Christian P. Jorgensen, brother of the bride, served as Mr. Short's best man.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a street length dress of aqua crepe, made with bracelet sleeves and high neck. It's trim of jewel buttons matched perfectly her earrings. A tiny hat of shirred white net and flowers completed the costume. Her corsage was of orchids.

The bridesmaid's dress was a shell pink crepe affair and her hat was of pink feathers. Deep pink begonias formed her corsage.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Jorgensen wore a dress of navy blue. Her flowers were gardenias. The groom's mother was attired in an afternoon frock of raspberry hue, with white begonias as her corsage.

Mrs. Short is a graduate of the Washington Union High School and attended San Jose State College. Previous to her marriage, she was secretary to the Board of Education in Alameda.

Mr. Short, upon his graduation from Alameda High School, entered the Navy where he served for more than six years. He was recently discharged with the rating of C. M.. M. M. after having seen action at Midway, Attu, the Marshall and Gilbert Islands and the Coral Sea.

Thinking Things Over . . .

By VIVIAN BATMAN

The question that is puzzling the citizenry around Niles is "Why is the Ragged Robin Cafe called the Ragged Robin?"

The height of something or other—

I am paying a man a dollar an hour to weed our back yard, while at the same time I am running a classified ad for my son in the "Work Wanted" column—wanting any kind of work, WEEDING, etc.!

It's hot. So I can't think. At least I can't think of anything to put in this column. So, by special request*, I shall reprint one of last year's columns.

Zuccini

Don't get me wrong. I have nothing against zuccini as zuccini. It is a pleasant enough vegetable in its way. The only thing about zuccini is that it gets out of hand. It is a trouble maker. It can break up your home. It can cause a divorce. It does more to lose friends for you than Pink Tooth Brush or not belonging to the Book of the Month Club.

You plant a hill of zuccini seeds, and what have you got? Well, naturally, you've got zuccini . . . if nature hasn't pulled a fast one on you.

Then one morning you look at it and lo! you discover it has borne miniature zuccini. You are overcome with joy. You call your wife. You call your neighbors. They are polite. They say, "How nice."

Then, before you know it, there are so many zuccini you begin to lose track of them. You say to your wife, "We must have zuccini for dinner tonight, dear." As though you hadn't had it lately.

She gives you an odd look and puts her hand significantly over your forehead. "Are you feeling well?" she asks. "You must not be, or you would have remembered that we have had zuccini for dinner every night for the past five nights — boiled, fried, stuffed, Spanish, souffle."

You groan. You say, "Well—er—roast it then."

She roasts it. She also serves it raw in salads, she stews it, she grates it over your cereal in the morning. She even tries it once, sliced, in your sandwiches, which gives you indigestion.

Finally, one day as you are loading an extra large one into the house—(it has grown to the proportions of a watermelon —your wife glares at it and at you. She whips off her apron. She says dramatically, "This is enough. I can't stand any more. Either get rid of those zuccini, or me. Take your choice."

It is a crucial moment. It is like the movies, when the wife says to take your choice. Only in the movies it is always the "other woman" instead of a yard full of zuccinni. You don't know what to do. You can't get rid of the zuccini because your neighbors won't take any more of it. As a matter of fact, they are beginning to avoid you as though you had Athlete's Foot.

They cross the street when they see you. They look at you suspiciously if you come up to their walks with any sort of bulging sack under your arm. You are, brother, in a spot.

Naturally, you can't dispose of the zuccini by throwing it in the garbage because it wouldn't be thrifty. There is only one choice open to you.

You choose the zuccini, and your wife goes.

So there you are, without a wife, without friends.

It serves you right; you should have planted radishes.

P.S. To any of our friends who have given, or are planning to give us any zuccini, we are only kidding. We actually like it.

PUT ROMANCE IN YOUR COOKING

Anyone who considers cooking an artistic accomplishment should have a culinary herb garden, for the using of fresh herbs in cooking is such a joy to the palate as well as adventure for the cook! And it's easy to grow your own.

FOR REMEMBRANCE . . . What herbs to grow? Rosemary of course, a sprig to put in the potato soup; marjoram and basil for sauces; sage for stuffings; savory and thyme to glorify stews and cheaper cuts of meat. Parsley and chives to add eye and appetite appeal to creamed new potatoes and cottage cheese; fresh mint for the Sunday roast of lamb. Do get acquainted with such interesting herbs as borage, rose geranium, lemon verbena, the mints; tarragon, dill, all of the kitchen herb family. And don't forget the cat mint, or catnip, for the family cat! But these nine are the most cherished and used of the culinary herbs. Not only can they be used fresh, (experiment until your family is familiar with the flavors and go easy on the amount), but they may be dried for winter pleasure.

A KITCHEN BOUQUET . . . Herbs are such friendly, helpful little plants. They don't seem to mind where you put them. They will grow just as cheerfully in a window box or in a flower pot as they will in a big garden. Your herb garden may be a branching stand to hold pots in a sunny window. Or a strawberry jar—(You know, one of those pottery jars with pockets for five or six plants) sitting in the sun at your back door. If your only chance of a garden is in one sun-drenched window, use flower pots.

GARDENER'S URGE . . . If you want an herb garden, then pick up some packets of seeds at your garden or seed store and follow directions on the envelopes. The seeds may be started in flats containing equal parts of loam, sand, and leaf mold. Plant in shallow rows, thinly and evenly. Transplant to pots or plant bands, then to permanent location, though this starting may be eliminated. All they need is sun, good drainage, good garden soil—not too rich, rather on the sandy side. They thrive with very little care and a minimum of water.

FLASH
WHEN YOU'RE USING HERBS, fresh or dried, treat them as additional seasonings to the usual ones of salt, pepper, mustard. Use less than a fourth teaspoon, at first. Mince very fine or tie in a bundle to be lifted from the stew or soup. Taste as you go.
